WASHINGTON, November 12, 1868.

Generals Longstreet, Thomas and Terry each had an interview with General Grant yesterday afternoon. The first desired to know the possibie policy of the new President towards the Southern banks and railroads.

The investigation into the acts of the revenue officers of New York show sufficient fraud to warrant the suspension of a number of them. Mr. Johnson will take steps to remove the worst at once.

John Savage, President of the Fenian Brotherhood, had an interview with Grant. He goes to Europe on Saturday.

Admiral Farragut's private Secretary has prepared an extensive report of the cruise of the flagship Franklin, which is to be sent into Congress with the report of the Secretary of the Navy.

Mr. Seward says that Mr. Johnson is pursuing his instructions to the letter in Great Britain, and that all reports that the question of the Alabama claims had been referred to the King of Prussia for arbitration and basis of settlement are unfounded. The plan suggested by the London Times would not be accepted by our Government.

Mr. Stanton is here and it is said has been in consultation with General Grant relative to Cabinet officers.

The President elect favors the idea of a constitutional amendment making suffrage equal all over the country.

Hon. David A. Wells asserts that the receipts from customs and internal revenue are at present ample to pay the expenses of the Government, interest on the public debt and to pay a considerable portion of the debt annually in addition. During Grant's administration it is probable the tax will be still further reduced.

Office seekers are arriving here in considerable numbers, but they get no interviews with Grant.

The Director of the Bureau of Statistics is preparing an elaborate report on the statistics of taxation in the United States. It will exhibit the Federal, State, county, township and corporation taxes in detail. The whole sum of these revenues now exceed $700,000,000 annually.

Brevet Brigadier General Horace Brooks to-day assumed command of this Department. It is believed the present staff will be retained.

Another large number of visitors were at Gen. Grant's headquarters to-day.

Secretary M'Culloch and Attorney General Evarts, this morning had a long interview with the President.

The following Internal Revenue appointments were made to-day: Storekeepers—T. S. Dunnall, Wm. R. Letcher, Eighth district of Kentucky; Jno. Barker, Seventh district of Onio. Guagers—Oliver C. Cook, Twelfth district of Illinois; Jas. C. Rahlburn, Sixth district of Illinois; O. Parks, Third district of Indiana; M. Lineback, E. S. Butler, Second district of Ohio.

The Clerks in the Redemption Bureau were to-day engaged in counting the money received from the steamer Jacob Carter. The greater part of it was much charred and the remainder burnt to cinders. The entire sum was about $200,000. Upwards of one-half the denominations have thus far been recognized and measures will be taken to indemnify the owners or those those responsible for the money.

General Grant called at the Internal Revenue Bureau this afternoon and had a pleasant interview of an hour's duration with Commissioner Rollins.

A Philadelphia lady has applied for the use of Jeff. Davis's wearing apparel for exhibition.

ST. LOUIS, November 12.—A petition was filed in the Circuit Court, by Elizabeth Engelke, wife of Major B. H. Engelk, asking ten thousand dollars damages from her father, Henry B. He was also connected by marriage with the late Thomas H. Benton.

A Convention of the white lead manufacturers was held here yesterday. The object of the Convention was to effect a concert of action in the matters relating to the trade, with the further object of promoting the interests of the western white lead manufacturers exclusively, of reducing the price of white lead and ridding the market of adulterated material. It was presided over by Mr. Wm. Wood, of the Eagle White Lead Works of Cincinnati. Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Cleveland and St. Louis companies were represented in the Convention.

There was to have been a Convention of General Railroad Freight Agents held here yesterday, but there being present a less number than necessary to transact business, they adjourned to meet in Chicago next Wednesday.

The late rains caused a flood in the rivers, and much property was destroyed on the levees.

THE COUNTY CHRISTIAN CONVENTION.

Third Day's Proceedings.

MORNING SESSION.

Convention assembled at half-past nine o'clock, and was called to order by Mr. H. K. Porter.

The exercises were opened with singing and prayer by Mr. Stutchell, of Monongahela City.

The Chairman announced the topic for discussion to be: "The Organization and Work of City Missions. How shall we reach the poor, the degraded, and all who do not attend public worship?"

By appointment the discussion was opened by Rev Mr. Caldwell, City Missionary, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association. Before concluding, the gentleman submitted a report of his labors during the past twenty-three weeks. The gentleman stated that he had been assigned to the old Third and Sixth wards of the city, now changed to the Fifth, Seventh and Eighth wards. The district contains about two thousand families. During the period embraced in the report 1,780 visits have been made to families, 100 additional visits to the sick and dying. Seventy-three cottage or neighborhood prayer meetings have been held, forty in the district named, and were attended, on an average, by eighteen persons. Forty-six preaching or lecture services have been conducted—twelve in the open air—attended by an average of four hundred persons, largely Romanists. The remainder were held in the jail, Soldiers' Home, Female Home, Home of the Destitute, Homœpathic Hospital and school houses. Four Bibles, 1,800 tracts, and a number of religious papers have been distributed. Twelve temperance pledges have been obtained; twenty children gathered into church and mission schools; twelve adult persons have been induced to attend church; five backsliders have been reclaimed; and eleven persons are reported as hopefully converted. The report speaks most encouragingly, and gratifying results from the labors are confidently expected.

The audience then joined in singing the hymn commencing:

"Oh for a thousand tongues to sing."

Rev. M. B. Pugh, also a City Missionary under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, was introduced, and submitted a report of his labors. The gentleman stated that he had been assigned as a field of labor all that part of Allegheny lying west of the West Common, and entered upon the discharge of his duties in April last. Since that time fifty-four prayer meetings have been held; forty-six sick persons visited; forty-two sermons preached, and seven persons have professed conversion; 2,912 families have been visited, and 108 prayer meetings held. Eleven sermons have been delivered for other ministers. The places at which sermons were delivered were Wood's Run school house, and rolling mill, and Snyder's Hollow school house. The total number of tracts distributed 2,500; religious papers, 1,425; whole number of prayer meetings 134, visitations 8,004; sermons delivered, 85; conversions, 18; deaths, 4. The speaker concluded by an earnest appeal to all to give their aid and influence to the cause of city missions, and argued that the greatest difficulty to be overcome was the influence exerted by the liquor sellers.

The congregation then joined in singing one stanza of the hymn commencing:

"One there is above all others."

Rev. Mr. A. S. Roe, formerly Superinendent of City Missions in New York, gave some of his experience in reaching the poor and those who do not attend public worship. He argued that an important object was to carry the Gospel to these classes, but that it was equally important to make them feel on interest in the services and in the organizations effected by the missionaries. He thought that the missions after being established should be made self-sustaining as soon as possible, and if this could be accomplished those who attended would feel that they had a personal interest in the manner in which its affairs are conducted.

The speaker, in response to the request of Rev. Mr. Scovel, gave an exceedingly interesting account of the organization of the Mission Association in New York, and the results thus far manifested.

Mr. Bacon, of Detroit, said the greatest difficulty he had experienced was in determining what to do with the poor and degraded after they had been reached. They willingly attend the tent services and open air meetings, but they should be given the hand of Christian fellowship, and made to feel that those who profess Christ have full sympathy with them.

Rev. Mr. M'Laughlin, missionary of the Allegheny County Prison Association, held that the most effective measures for reaching the poor and degraded was by united Christian effort and liberal contributions of means to carry on the work.

Rev. Mr. Young presented the following paper as a summary of Wednesday morning's discussion:

It is an admitted fact that God has established a church upon earth whose king is Christ, whose law is His word, whose duty is His service, and whose reward is His blessing.

She is a living witness for the truth, the light of the world, and the salt of the earth. His activities for good are manifold and great.

The power and usefulness of a church depend on each member filling his own place and doing his own work.

To develope the individual gifts of any one church is a work of great importance, and it cannot be over estimated.

In view of the happy and pertinent remarks on the subject before this Convention.

The following is recommended, as suggesting the best means, for developing the "activities" of any one church: I. The Sabbath School—1. Infant School; 2. Intermediate Department; 3. Bible Classes for adults. II. Prayer Meetings—1. Congregational; 2. Young People's Prayer Meeting; 3. Maternal Associations for prayer. III. Missionary Organizations—1. To aid in spreading the Gospel at home; 2. To aid in sending the Gospel abroad; 3. To clothe the poor, and bring them to the house of God. IV. Social organizations to aid the members of the church and congregation in becoming mutually acquainted with each other.

Such instrumentalities for good are entirely dependent upon the outpouring of the Holy Spirit in answer to humble and earnest prayer.

The Convention adjourned with benediction by Dr. Howard.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At half past two o'clock the Convention re-assembled, and was called to order by President Wilson. The exercises were opened by singing the 33d selection, commencing,

"Children of the Heavenly King,
As we journey let us sing."

Rev. M'Clelland led the assembly in prayer. The audience then joined in singing the 20th selection, after which the Chairman announced the topic for discussion—"Experience, encouragements and methods in lay preaching and other personal efforts to win souls to Christ. How shall the unconverted be approached."

Rev. McMillan of New Castle, in opening the discussion, said in the history of apostolic times, we had an example of the incalculable amount of good which might be accomplished by lay paeaching. The history of that day, in this matter was but the history of our time. Laymen could exercise an influence where preachers could not. In his church, in New Castle, there were seventeen laymen who went forth to preach, and had accomplished an amount of good in that neghborhood, which eternity along could estimate. The laymen were familiar with the common walks and ways of men, and knew how to present the Gospel in a common place way, so as to exhibit its sufficiency for men in all conditions of life, and it was such preaching that told told in the advancement of the cause of Christ.

Dr. Dickson Pastor of the Union Baptist Church was the next speaker. He took up the question which had been discussed in the morning, "How can we reach the poorer classes of society?" and argued that the most feasible plan for the acomplishment of this work, was a free church, without the fashionable pew system of the present day. The gospel should be a free gospel, and the church should be a place where the poor might come and sit side by side with tee rich, and partake of its benefits. In considering the question of lay preaching, the speaker thought every man should should consider the command, "Go work in my vineyard," as addressed especially to him and thus the whole church would be preachers.

Mr. Chidlaw, from Cincinnati, said we had in the Bible the teaching and example of Christ in the work of lay preaching. The reward indeed is the work of the good Samaratin and the work of the good Evangelist. How shall we reach the poor? We must go to them, supply their physical wants, and then they will be prepared to receive of that heavenly food. We must first get at the humanity of the matter before we get at the higher development of man. Attend to the physical wants of men, give them work to do and then the most important steps toward their entrance into the church would have been accomplished.

Mr. D. L. Moody, of Chicago, thought the most important method of reaching the poor, and making lay preaching practical, was to have the churches free, so that all might be on a level, rich and poor, as soon as they entered the portals of the building. The way to bring about this desirable end was to get all the people to labor, and then they would see the disadvantage of the system and do away with it altogether. By mingling with the poor and those who were deprived in a great measure of Gospel blessings by this system, people would readily perceive its evils in a manner which they could do in no other way.

Rev. Scovel said the subject of free Churches was one which had attracted the attention of all Church members. In Cincinnati the plan had been tried in two Presbyterian Churches. In one it had been found to work well, but there were outside local causes which in a measure had done a great deal to make it so. From the pastor of the other Church he had received a letter stating that as yet no definite results had been arrived at in regard to the effect of the experiment. The system was mainly kept up by the desire which all families had to sit together, while worshiping in Church. He believed, however, that it would be better if all Churches were free.

Mr. Bacon said that his method in lay preaching was to take a subject and think over it while going round his business and keeping the subject continually in his mind he finally was enabled to present it so as to be understood, if not in the most appropriate language. He gave some interesting reminiscences of his experiences in preaching in the army, where this plan was carried out and found to be effective.

Rev. M. B. Pugh, City Missionary, gave an account of the manner in which he conducted his work, and said that he found the most effective method of approaching an unconverted person was to go to him as a friend and a brother, and by exhibiting a friendly interest and concern for him, a repulse would very rarely be received.

Mr. T. K. Cree took up the question of lay preaching, and spoke of the work accomplished in this manner by the Young Men's Christian Association in the open air prayer meetings.

Mr. Young said the manner in which he would approach an unconverted man was first to go to a Throne of Grace and endeavor to realize his own need of a Savior. This was the best preparation, for when the heart was imbued with the love of God, the manner of approaching sinners would be clearly revealed.

Mr. Jennings said that a work which was spasmodic would not be productive of much good. A good plan to remedy this evil was to form a resolution, as some workers had done, to speak a good word for Christ every day. This method has been found to work well by those who have tried it.

Mr. Moody gave some of his experiences in lay preaching. He thought the great need of these meetings was for the lay preacher to use variety. Talk to the people about the things around them, illustrate by anecdote, objects, and in any way so as to make the subject clear to the mind. Above all things simplicity was required. The best method of making lay preaching effective, was to take the young, talk to them, train them in religious truths, and thus prevent them from falling into crime. "An ounce of preventive was worth a pound of cure."

The audience then joined in singing the seventh selection, commencing,

"He leadeth me, oh blessed thought,
Oh words with heavenly comfort fraught."

Rev. Scovel then offered the following resolutions as a summary of the discussion on the morning topic.

First—That we express our renewed and deepened sense of the vast and increasing importance of the work of City Missions.

Second—That we recognize with gratitude our manifest encouragements in the open avenues, the cordial reception given to the missionaries and the abundant results.

Third—That it becomes increasingly clear that the work of City Missions demands not only the consideration of the ministry but the sympathies, the prayers, the means and the personal efforts of the whole Church.

Fourth—That we emphasize the propriety and value of administering temporal relief and of providing employment and homes, as the manifestation of that love of our fellow men which is the best proof and vehicle for the love of Christ.

Fifth—That we affectionately urge every christian to study that courtesy and kindness which shall aid to retain and encourage those who are discovered and brought within the influence of the Church.

Sixth—That we firmly believe the very security for permanent civil prosperity is a thorough evangelization of the masses.

Seventh—It is our conviction that this work, under the circumstances and conditions obtaining in our own city, can be most effectively organized and carried forward by individual churches and denominational unions.

Eighth—That we earnestly beseech the various churches here represented to take

THE CHILDREN.

We have been requested to reprint the following beautiful poem, by Charles Dickens:

When the lessons and tasks are all ended,
And the school for the day is dismissed,
And the little ones gather round me,
To bid me good night and be kissed.
O! the little white arms that encircle
My neck in a tender embrace;
O! the smiles that are halos of heaven,
Shedding sunshine of love on my face.

And when they are gone, I sit dreaming
Of my childhood too lovely to last;
Of love that my heart will remember,
While it wakes to the pulse of the past.
Ere the world and its wickedness made me
A partner of sorrow and sin;
When the glory of God was about me,
And the glory of gladness within.

O! my heart grows weak as a woman's,
And the fountains of feeling will flow,
When I think of the paths steep and stony,
Where the feet of the dear ones must go;
Of the mountains of sin hanging o'er them,
Of the tempest of Fate blowing wild;
O! there's nothing on earth half so holy
As the innocent heart of a child!

They are idols of hearts and of households;
They are angels of God in disguise;
His sunlight still sleeps in their tresses;
His glory still gleams in their eyes.
O! those truants from home and from heaven,
They have made me more manly and mild!
And I know now how Jesus could liken
The Kingdom of God to a child.

I ask not a life for the dear ones,
All radiant, as others have done;
But that I may have just enough shadow
To temper the glare of the sun;
I would pray God to guard them from evil,
But my prayer would bound back to myself;
Ah! a seraph may pray for a sinner,
But a sinner must pray for himself.

The twig is so easily bended,
I have banished the rule and the rod,
I have taught them the goodness of knowledge,
They have taught me the goodness of God:
My heart is a dungeon of darkness,
Where I shut them from breaking a rule;
My frown is a sufficient correction;
My love is the law of the school.

I shall leave the old house in the autumn,
To traverse its threshold no more;
Ah! how I shall sigh for the dear ones
That meet me each hour at the door!
I shall miss the "good-nights" and the kisses,
And the gush of their innocent glee,
The group on the green, and the flowers
That are brought every morning to me,

I shall miss them at morn and at eve—
Their song in the school and the street;
I shall miss the low hum of their voices,
And the tramp of their delicate feet,
When the lessons are all ended,
And Death says, "The school is dismissed!"
May the little ones gather around me,
To bid me good night and be kissed!

—The Home Journal appoints the following young ladies belles of their respective cities: Miss Tudor, of Boston; Miss Emily Schomberg, of Philadelphia; Miss Daniels, of Baltimore; Miss Honore, of Chicago; Miss Kate Park, of Brooklyn; Miss Butler, of Washington; Miss Burnett, of Cincinnati; Miss Josie Fenton, of Albany.

—Dr. Weed, who is pastor of a Methodist church in Brooklyn has taken upon himself to say that a Christian cannot dance. Dr. Weed, we think, unlike most of the weed family, must have taken a long time to grow, as his ideas date from the time of Oliver Cromwell. There are some Christians who will not dance, but we think, in fact we know, there are some who will and do.

—The thirteenth annual game dinner of the Tremont House, Chicago, took place on Sunday last, and like all the special dinners of that popular and first-class hotel, was magnificent. Here are a few of the game dishes embraced in the bill of fare: Black bear, buffalo, elk, antelope, venison, opossum, wild turkey, prairie chicken, canvas back, mallard, brandt, gray, wood, lake, red-head, teal, shovel-bill and spike-tail ducks, wild goose, quail, sand hill crane, partridge, rice, marsh, butter balls, blue wing teal, yellow legs, snipe and reed birds, squirrels, rabbits, &c., &c. Such a combination of toothsome food is enough to set one's mouth to water, but Mr. John B. Drake, the gentlemanly proprietor, knows how to provide for the comfort as well as the appetite of his guests, and altogether there are few men in America who know as well how to keep a hotel.

—The English of all ages seemed to enjoy persecuting others under a cloak of piety and religious zeal. Even now, when the bright light of the Nineteenth century shines on them, they manage to glut this insatiable appetite of theirs. Ritualism may be wrong or it may be right, but we think none but an Englishman would think of getting up a row in a church, beating small choristers and stoning priests, merely because he believed ritualism to be improper. Englishmen don't stone improper women in the streets. They don't get up a row because the English Goliah wants to tap the claret of the Scottish Sampson, and it is not proper for him so to do. In fact it is religious improprieties only, which in John Bulls' opinion deserve to be riotously squelched, and he appoints himself alone judge of what is and is not proper. On the 25th ult., a number of people went to the Rev. Purchase's chapel and got up a riot, attacking priests and choristers merely because they were exercising their supposed rights to march in procession with chanting and incense around the interior of their own place of worship. Yet a Mormon temple exists in peace in London.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, November 12, 1868.

There is really but little that is new or important to be said in regard to the general markets. As we noticed yesterday, there seems to be a feeling growing that Wheat, Oats, Barley, Rye and Flour, and some other articles we might mention, have about touched bottom, but as yet it is not strong enough to show itself, and as a consequence, the volume of business continues light, and prices are without material change.

APPLE BUTTER—Unchanged at 70 to 75 in kegs, and 80 85 in crocks.

APPLES—We can report a steady demand, and regular sales at $2 to $4 per bbl, according to quality.

CRANBERRIES—Prime Eastern are very scarce in this market, and may be quoted at $23 to $24 per bbl.

CIDER—Is quiet and unchanged at $6 to $10 per bbl, as to quality and size of barrel.

CHESTNUTS—Quiet and unchanged; small sales at $6,50 per bushel.

DRIED FRUIT—Small sales of Peaches at 12 to 14 for quarters and halves, and apples 9 to 10c.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Is in good supply and dull; may be quoted at 4½ cts per pound to the trade, and 5 cts in a retail way.

BUTTER—Prime to choice Roll is in steady demand, at 38 to 40c.

BEANS—Quiet and bnchanged at $3,75 to $4 per bushel.

HAY—Baled Hay continues very dull, and may be quoted all the way from $18 to $25, for common to prime timothy.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quie' and unchanged at 13½ to 13¾ for Soulders, and 18 to 19c for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is scarce and in good demand at 18c. Mess Pork is being sold at $30,50 to $31.

POTATOES—We can report sales of four car loads of Peach Blows, sacked, at 80c—may be quoted at 75c, in bulk. Sweets dull but unchanged at $4,50 to $5,00 per bushel.

ONIONS—Very dull; offered freely at $1,50 to $1,75 per bushel.

GRAIN—The Grain market continues dull, and there are no regular prices. Wheat is dull and nominal at $1,80 for prime Red Winter. Sale of 1 car No. 1 Spring at $1,37. Oats considerably firmer, and, as always is the case when there is a prospect of an advance, the demand is better; we now quote at 64 to 65c, on wharf and track, and the usual advance for small lots in store. —Gibson & Wymond are loading 10,000 oil bbls at Madison for Pittsburgh, on barges, to be towed.

—The late fast run of the R. E. Lee from New Orleans to Donaldsonville, in four hours and fifty minutes, beats the celebrated run of the Princess one minute.

—One of the largest engineering projects is to connect the Upper Ohio with the Gulf of Mexico. The principal link in the line would be a canal thirty miles long, between the Coosa and Tennessee rivers.

—At Cannelton on Monday, Nov. 2, while assisting in the launch of a coal boat, Winfield S. Long, who was on board, fell on the boat the moment of striking the water, and died in a few hours, of the injuries received.

—The towboats Alp, which sunk at the head of the falls, Monday morning, was raised about 4 o'clock Tuesday morning, and had a bulkhead built over the hole, and she went up the river. She will go on the ways at Madison, for repairs. She was afloat in four hours after commencing work on her.

—In the Court of Common Pleas, at Cincinnati on Friday, the case of Jos. Specht vs. Dean & Hale, was decided by Judge Cox, in favor of the defendants. Three demijohns of cordial had been shipped there, in 1864, on the Alice Dean, which were never delivered. The defense was that the demijohns bursted and that there was no negligence on the part of defendants. The case was decided accordingly.

—A St. Louis telegram under date of yesterday says: The recent heavy rains west and northwest of here, have caused a rise in the rivers unprecedented at this season of the year. The river at this point has risen between seven and feet since Tuesday, and several thousand dollars damage has been caused to freight lying on the levee. The coffer dam at the bridge has been filled, and work has been suspended until the river falls again.

—On, or about the 20th of this month, a grand sight is to be witnessed at the Coffer Dam, on the Sycamore Chain of the Upper, or Rock Island Rapids. The contractors expect that at that time they will have pumped the area enclosed of water, and will lay bare about 50 acres of the bed of the river. What hidden treasures may be found there, no one can tell, but it will be an interesting sight to witness, and one which will attract thither a crowd of visitors on the appointed day.

—Wm. F. Davidson, Presideat of the White Collar Packet Co., and Mr. Allis, of St. Paul, are now joint owners of real estate in St. Paul, which at present valuation is easily worth the handsome sum of $200,000. The St. Paul Press adds to this statement: "Besides this, each owns in his own name other property of great value; and Mr. Davidson, besides his extensive personal possessions, is interested with other parties in some of the best real estate in the city, amounting to several hundred thousand dollars in value.

THE OFFICIAL majority of West Virginia at the October election has not yet been announced. It will not reach 5,000. The majority for GRANT was nearly 9,000.

A THIRD INTEREST in the Reading daily Dispatch, a prosperous, well conducted and able Republican newspaper is elsewhere advertised for sale. This we conceive to be a rare chance for investment, as the Dispatch has a handsome circulation and large advertising patronage.

WE NEED NOT caution our friends and readers against reposing an unsuspicious credence in every rumor from the Capital, which purports to announce the opinions and intentions of the President elect. It would be too much of a tax upon credulity to believe that General GRANT has so soon lost his golden gift of silence as to place his sentiments upon grave questions, or his foreshadowings of official policy, at the command now of every idle gossip, who suns himself on the curb-stones of Washington.

IT IS STATED, upon high authority, that the receipts from customs and internal revenue, are at present, ample to pay the expenses of the Government, the interest on the debt, and a considerable portion of the principal thereof annually in addition. As the election is over, we trust that this statewill not be denounced as an electioneering trick of the Radicals, but that it will be accepted for what it really is, an irrefragible proof of the solid value of that policy of retrenchment in expenditure, with which the Republican Congress has coupled a wise distribution of the burdens of taxation.

THE SUFFRAGE QUESTION will be introduced early at the approaching session of Congress, with an earnest effort to secure the submission, to the State Legislatures, of a Constitutional Amendment providing for Suffrage Impartial and Uniform in all the States of the Union. If a joint resolution to this end should pass both Houses, the proposed amendment must be submitted to the States, and their action thereupon could not well be complete before the end of another year. With suffrage uniform in all of the States, the adjustment of other vexed questions would follow naturally and easily, but it will be for Congress to consider whether all of the existing questions can be remitted to the delay which must attend final action upon the general proposition.

THE REPUBLICANS OF ALABAMA claim that State for GRANT by a decisive majority, and the returns, although incomplete, certainly look that way. This vote has generally been conceded to the opposition, by reason of the diminished show of Republican strength in what was known as the negro region of the State, which was the first to be heard from. Their majorities being smaller than had been anticipated, justified the opposition claim that the white counties in Northern Alabama would drown them with a heavy Democratic majority vote. The politicians are now astonished to discover the unexpected strength of GRANT and COLFAX in those districts, and that the State has probably been saved to the Republicans by white votes, if at all. The result is still in doubt, one-fourth of the State remaining to be officially reported.

ALREADY three Republican members of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania have been named in connection with the Speakership of that body. These are Mr. GEORGE WILSON, of Allegheny, Mr. B. B. STRANG, of Tioga, and Mr. JOHN CLARK, of Philadelphia. Mr. STRANG is pushed in connection with the movement to make Mr. WM. H. KEMBLE, of Philadelphia, United States Senator. Mr. CLARK has been brought out by the opponents of that gentleman, though they are divided in preferences as to the candidate for Senator.

Mr. WILSON is not simply presented for reasons of locality, but as an experienced legislator. At first, it seemed probable that Mr. STRANG would make an easy conquest of the position; but he seems to have been beaten in the preliminary engagement, and so badly as not to inspire brilliant hopes for his future.

CONSTITUTIONAL REPRESENTATION.

The recent Congressional elections in three States, Delaware, Maryland and Kentucky, although held in accordance with the terms of the last Congressional apportionment, exhibit, nevertheless, a conspicuous violation of the second section of the XIVth Article of the Constitution. In the case of Delaware, this violation is simply technical, since her single member cannot be denied to her in any event. But Maryland elects one, and Kentucky clearly one, if not two, members in disregard of the provisions of that section. The Apportionment act of 1861 counted the 171,131 colored population of Maryland and the 236,167 of the same race in Kentucky, as legally in their part of the existing basis for its ratio. With the adoption of the XIVth Article, which was officially proclaimed on the 20th of July last, this non-voting element in the populations of those two States was stricken from the legally existing bases of representation. Those States deny to their colored population the right of suffrage, and the terms of the section referred to expressly exclude so much of their total populations from that basis.

We cannot see that any legislation of Congress is needed to make the illegality of the recent elections in those States manifest. The Constitution is the supreme law, and its amendment, at any time, works the nullity of such existing legislation as may be in conflict with the amendatory provisions, as promptly and completely as it prohibits such inconsistent legislation for the future. It must be evident that the adoption of the XIVth article worked the instant repeal in that regard of so much of the act of Apportionment as gave to Maryland and Kentucky a right of representation which, from the moment of that adoption, became, to the extent designated, clearly unconstitutional. If those States could lawfully proceed, after the adoption of the Constitutional restriction upon the basis, to choose members as before in contravention of the new Article, they can do it again. What they have done in '68 they can do with the same legal propriety in '70, when the members of the XLIInd Congress are to be elected, in advance of the ascertained results of the census of that year. Certainly, the mischief of thus permitting a continuous disregard of the existing Constitutional provision is manifest to the intelligent reader. Yet such an election in those States, upon a basis which was but is no longer legal, would be no more invalid in 1870 than it is in '68.

What will you do about it? The question is too grave to be lightly dismissed, or to be denied a speedy and correct adjustment. Constitutionally, the XLIst Congress can receive but four Representatives from Maryland, instead of the five whom she has chosen, and seven from Kentucky instead of the nine who will offer their certificates. Congress will have no power whatever to receive to its membership any illegal excess from those States. Nor will the House be likely to accept the responsibility of attempting to scale the delegations down to their legal numbers respectively, by designating to what four of Maryland's five, or to which seven of Kentucky's nine claimants, the Constitutional number of seats shall be given.

It only remains for Congress to do now what it should have done before,—to supplement the Constitutional provisions with that appropriate legislation which, at the last session, would have prevented this awkward state of things, and which now must cure it. If we are not mistaken, this will be found to be a leading question of the session. It concerns not only the two States which, by excluding part of their populations from the suffrage, have thus contracted their own representative privileges, but it touches also six other States which are entitled to more members than they have chosen. The Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana and Arkansas, having enlarged their several rights of representation by the admission of the colored race to the suffrage, their right, in respect of that population, is increased in the ratio of five to three. We say nothing of Florida, since, like Delaware, she would have but one member in any event. With whatever urgency the people of these States may insist upon being allowed the ampler representation to which they are clearly entitled, under the Constitution as it is, we may safely remit to them the whole duty of maintaining their own rights in that regard. Because they can legally claim more members than they have, no objection on the score of ineligibility can lie against their present members in the popular branch. But with Kentucky and Maryland the case stands differently. Their surplus of Representatives is an intrusion, without constitutional warrant, and a direct invasion of the rights of the people in sister States. More than that, the spirit of our institutions can never countenance the persistent and flagrant disregard of a plain fundamental obligation. The excessive representations must be cut down at once, whatever is done with those which are deficient.

No fault, in this matter, is fairly attributable to either of the two States named. Their elections have proceeded upon the only basis ostensibly known to existing legislation. They must have been guided by the old Act of Apportionment, or they would have had no guide whatever. It is perhaps better that they should have proceeded thus, ignoring the fatal objection of unconstitutionality, than to have omitted the election entirely from its regular course. The result, as it is, brings the naked question plumply and imperatively before the House, for the unavoidable consideration which will be given to it. It is Congress alone which is chargeable with any remissness in the premises. The adoption of the XIVth Amendment should have been promptly supplemental by a Congressional readjustment of the representation upon the new basis. This remissness can only be explained by considering the very late period in a protracted, excited and exhausting session at which the question would have come up, and with some just allowances for the impatience which led members, anxious to return to their homes, their private affairs, or to the pressing claims of an important canvass already begun, to overlook this needful and delicate duty. That duty, moreover, would have involved the corresponding readjustment of the Electoral votes to be decided within the ensuing ninety days. Here would have appeared such inherent difficulties in the way of any practicable and timely settlement of the question, as might have led members at that time to ignore the matter altogether. But they will meet again next month with fair notice on this question, and with ample time for its settlement.

Whether the census of 1860, or a new census, to be immediately taken, shall be the basis of a new apportionment, will also need consideration. The constitution requires an enumeration to be made "within every ten years' term, as directed by law." There is no objection to an annual enumeration, if Congress deem it expedient. The only practicable adjustment of the matter will require a new census at once. However the XLIst Congress may find its House constituted, it will be a very grave mistake in public policy to omit such measures as shall secure to the XLIInd House an organization which shall be equitable as well as Constitutional. Such a result can only be reached after a general census and a fresh re-apportionment among all the States. It is evident, therefore, that this census must be taken next year, instead of in 1870, as an essential preliminary in the adjustment of the grave difficulties upon which we have remarked.

THE ELECTORAL VOTE.

Alabama gives her eight votes to GRANT, while SEYMOUR is said to have secured Oregon's three votes by some 200 majority. The Colleges will therefore stand 214 for GRANT and 80 for SEYMOUR, unless the "friends" of the latter shall throw him entirely overboard, as some of them propose, and tender an unanimous vote to the Republican nominee.

THE Democrats of Pennsylvania delight to give Mr. GEORGE W. CASS barren compliments. When it becomes necessary, in the course of events, for them to select a candidate for an eminent place, they commence by extolling his fitness for it, and by conferring the distinction upon some other individual. The odor of his respectability is agreeable to them, and they commend it by abundant and graceful flattery, but when it comes to the dispensation of substantial honor, the prize always settles upon another.

The Democrats, as a preliminary to the selection of a candidate for Governor next year, have revived their laudations of Mr. CASS. They execute this function with tact and profusion; but that they mean anything more than in years gone by, we see no reason to believe.

Mr. CLYMER, Mr. WALLACE and Mr. ENT, are also spoken of in connection with the same nomination. With a Republican majority of thirty thousand in the State, and no prospect existing of the Democrats doing anything beyond "going through the motions;" it really matters nothing which gentleman shall prove to be the favorite.

AT A RECENT meeting of French ecclesiasties, of very high rank in the Church, at Rome, it was found that a majority were in favor of removing the restriction to celibacy from the priesthood, and of substituting, in each country, the language of the people for the Latin tongue in the Liturgy. It is believed that these questions will receive much attention in the coming Œcumenical Council of the Church.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

The varions benevolent associations of the city are organizing for the winter's campaign. God help them in their work.

The Democratic Jackson Association retains its organization. Why should not the various Grant and Tanner Clubs do likewise?

"Shinny" on the streets is good sport for the boys, but not so pleasant for pedestrians. The police should use their exertions towards putting a stop to the game on our principal thoronghfares at least.

St. Paul's Cathedral rejoices in a brass band of twenty-two excellent performers who were selected out of the congregation, supplied with musical instruments by Rev. Father Hickey and educated in music by the organist of the church.

The Philadesphia Press thinks the Evenigg Mail of this city would succeed as a high-toned literary paper much better if its editors ignore politics altogether. It is succeeding very well as it is, but we think the hint worthy the consideration of our neighbor.

Slight Fire.—The alarm of fire yesterday morning from box 67 was caused by a quantity of benzole taking fire at the Pacific Oil Works owned by McCreery & Co. The fire was extinguished before any damage was done. The Independence and Niagara engines were promptly on hand, but their services were not required.

Malicious Mischief.—S. L. McCormick made information before the Mayor yesterday, charging Martin Reirdom with malicious mischief. He alleges that the accused maliciously drove a hay wagon against his light wagon at the corner of Penn and Sixth streets, and completely demolished it. Reirdon was arrested and held to bail for a hearing.

Larceny.—Adam Rosenberg made information before the Mayor, yesterday, charging Charles Smith with the larceny of a revolver valued at five dollars, and John Metz, at the same time and place, made information charging the same defendant with the larceny of an overcoat and sixty-five dollars in cash. Metz, it appears, keeps a boarding house at Union and Fifth streets, where the accused boarded, and from whence the articles were stolen. The accused being in jail on another charge, a commitment was lodged against him.

Paralytic Stroke.—The friends of Mr. John Kearney, a well known and highly respected citizen of the old Sixth ward, will be pained to hear that he was overtaken yesterday morning by a paralytic stroke. At the moment he was standing before the glass in the act of shaving himself. The members of his household, in adjoining parts of the mansion, hearing a heavy fall, repaired to the room and found him lying on the floor in an insensible condition. Medical aid was at once summoned and last evening the sufferer was deemed out of danger.

ALLEGHENY COUNCILS.

Street Improvements—Street Railway Extension—Reports.

A regular semi-monthly meeting of the Allegheny City Councils was held last evening in their respective chambers.

Select Council.

Members present—Brown, Callery, English, Faulkner, Gang, Gwinner, Hall, Jahn, Krebs, Motheral, Myler, Patterson, J. C., Phillips, Riddle, Reiter, Smith, A. D., Smith, Wm., Weise, Wettach and President McBrier.

The reading of the minutes of the preceding meeting, on motion of Mr. Myler, was omitted.

Mr. Myler presented a petition from Mercer & Robinson in reference to assessment on their property for the construction of the Federal street sewer. Referred to the Sewer Committee.

Mr. Reiter—Petitions from citizens complaining of abutments constructed in the Ohio river by Messrs. Lysle & Son as a nuisance. Referred to the Wharf Committee.

Mr. Myler presented the REPORT OF THE STREET COMMITTEE.

The Street Committee report in favor of the confirmation of the report of viewers on the widening of Jackson street, and offered a resolution to that effect. The Committee also offer the following:

Resolved, That Councils accept the proffered terms of indemnification on behalf of the city in maintaining the present line of North Canal street, and instruct the contractors to go on with the work.

In the matter of the petition for a sewer on Liberty street, in the Fourth ward, and from the Orphan Asylum, the Engineer has been instructed to report plans. They offer a resolution instructing the Street Commissioner to repave the sidewalks on Beaver street, from Montgomery avenue to North avenue, fourteen feet wide, and that flag crossings be placed on Montgomery avenue.

In the matter of a new city map the Engineer has been instructed to report the cost.

The change of grade on Gallagher street is ordered. In the matter of the proposed indemnification of James McVicker we have no new facts, and we ask the adoption of the original resolution. We recommend the grading of Jalappa street from Allegheny avenue to Walker street, and offer an ordinance providing for the same. Also a resolution providing for the widening of Webster street to forty feet, and an ordinance changing the name of Bank line, in the Eighth ward, to River avenue.

The report was accepted, and the recommendations adopted, except as to Jalappa street, which ordinance was laid over.

Mr. Faulkner presented the

REPORT OF THE RAILROAD COMMITTEE,

In which they state that in the matter of the request for a flagman at the crossing of the Fort Wayne Road at the foot of Marion avenue, in the First ward, the railroad company has complied with the request. Accepted.

Mr. Smith presented the

REPORT OF THE CONTROLLER,

Which was accepted, and the recommendation for the payment of bills and transfers were adopted. From the report we extract the following:

Contingent Fund	890.24
Water Works	6,205.34

Police, October	2,635.75

Mr. Myler presented the profile of the grade of Gallagher street, which was adopted.

Also, the plan of the sewer for Liberty and Washington streets, in the middle district, an eighteen inch pipe sewer; also, plan of an eighteen inch pipe sewer on Grant avenue, in the middle district. Both plans were adopted; the Grant avenue sewer to run from Ridge street to Beech street.

Mr. Gwinner presented the REPORT OF THE STREET RAILWAY COMMITTEE.

The Committee favor giving the Pleasant Valley Railway the right to traverse streets to the Hand Street Bridge, and offer an ordinance granting the privilege for the period of five years. The ordinance is of considerable length, drawn up with care, and restricting the company as to conditions, &c.

Mr. Myler moved the adoption of the ordinance.

Mr. A. D. Smith moved to consider the ordinance item by item, which was favored by a number of others and adopted.

The question as to whether the Allegheny and Manchester Road had the exclusive right to traverse Ohio street, was discussed at some length, yet no conclusion was arrived at.

Mr. A. D. Smith, Mr. Riddle and Mr. Motheral wished to have the Company required to keep the streets, from curb to curb, clean and in good repair.

Mr. Myler, Mr. English and Mr. J. C. Patterson spoke stongly in favor of liberality to the proposed enterprise.

Mr. Motheral moved to amend the ordinance as presented, requiring the Company to keep the streets clean and in repair, from curb to curb, and the ayes and nays were called with the following result:

Yeas—Callery, Faulkner, Gang, Hall, Jahn, Krebs, Motheral, Phillips, Riddle, Reiter, Smith A. D., Weise, Wettach—13.

Nays—Brown, English, Gwinner, Myler, Patterson J. C., Smith Wm., President McBrier—7.

The amendment was adopted.

On the question as to the tax on cars, Mr. A. D. Smith moved to insert on the same terms as imposed on the Manchester road.

Mr. Myler protested against this, and said that if a gentleman wished to hinder and prevent the prosecution of the enterprise, to vote against it at once.

The amendment was adopted by a vote of twelve to eight.

The rules were then suspended, and the ordinance, as amended, adopted. The ordinance will be published in full in our advertising columns.

Mr. Hall called up an ordinance prohibiting the running of cattle at large on the streets, on which C. C. had previously nonconcurred with S. C. On Mr. Hall's motion, S. C. adhered, and asked a Committee of Conference.

In all matters not otherwise noted there was a mutual concurrence, when Councils adjourned.

Common Council.

Members present: Messrs. Blair, Eyster, Fleming, Hanna, Hastings, Hochuly, Kennedy, Ley, Megraw, McNeill, Reynolds, Reed, Reineman, Seidle, Tate, Voegtly, White, Warner.

On motion of Mr. Eyster, Mr. McNeill was called to the chair.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Voegtly presented a petition from the citizens of the Third ward, asking for a reconsideration of the act of Councils in establishing the grade on Fairmount street. Referred to the Committee on Streets.

Mr. Reineman, a petition from the citizens of the Seventh ward, asking for a police force for that portion of the ward embracing Troy Hill. Referred to the Police Committee.

Mr. Hanna, a petition from the School Directors of the First ward, asking for a flag crossing at School and Rebecca streets. Referred to the Committee on Streets, with power to act.

Mr. Voegtly, a petition from citizens of the Third ward, asking for the grading of Blossom Alley between Third and Ohio streets. Referred to the Street Committee.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FIRE ENGINES.

Mr. Megraw, Chairman of the Committee on Fire Engines, presented a report from that Committee, which was accompanied by the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee on Fire Engines be and are hereby instructed to purchase the property adjoining the Columbia Engine House, on Lacock street, at a cost of $1,500.

Resolved, That the Committee on Fire Engines be instructed to employ a competent person to take charge of the alarm telegraph at a salary of eight hundred dollars per annum, the entire time of said party to be devoted to the work.

Resolutions of Respect.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Pittsburgh Female College, held November 12th, 1868, the following Preamble and Resolutions were unanimously adopted and ordered to be entered upon the miutes:

WHEREAS, It has pleased our Heavenly Father in His inscrutable Providence to call from our midst Allen Kramer, for upwards of fifteen years a member of our Board, and for many years Vice President, and most of the time acting President, therefore Resolved, 1. That while we bow submissively to the will of Him who is too wise to err and too good to do wrong, we hereby express our deep and heartfelt sorrow at the loss which we as a Board of Trustees have sustained, and which the institution has suffered, in the death of our deceased friend and brother.

Resolved, 2. That in his death, the College has lost one who was intimately identified with its history from the inception of the enterprise to the hour of his decease, and who by his noble benefactions and wise counsels contributed largely to its past success and its present prosperity.

Resolved, 3. That we will hold in grateful and pleasing remembrance his impartial administration as a presiding officer, his sterling integrity as a man of business, his kind and courteous bearing as a friend, and the many virtues which endeared him to the thousands with whom he mingled during nearly half a century's residence among us.

Resolved, 4. That a copy of these resolutions be published in the Pittsburgh Advocate, the daily papers of Pittsburgh, and also furnished to the family of the deceased.

THE GREAT MEDICAL MISTAKE

Of former days was an utter neglect of sanitary precautions. No efficient means were adopted for the prevention of sickness. Sewerage was unknown in cities; drainage was rarely attempted in the country. Heaps of offal were left to rot in the public streets, and domestic cleanliness, the great antidote to febrile diseases, was sadly neglected. It is not so now, Wise laws, philanthropic institutions, and a vigilant sanitary police, have, to a great extent, remedied the evil. Nor is this all. PREVENTIVE MEDICATION has helped materially to lessen the rates of mortality It is not too much to say that TENS OF THOUSANDS escape sickness in unhealthy seasons in consequence of having INVIGORATED THEIR SYSTEMS IN ADVANCE by a course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS This pure and powerful vegetable tonic and alterative comprises the extracts and essences of a variety of roots and herbs, renowned for their strengthening, soothing, vitalizing and purifying properties. These medicinal agents are incorporated with a spirit absolutely free frem the acrid poison which defiles, more or less, all the liquors of commerce, and their effect is diffused through the whole frame by this active, yet harmless stimulant. The result is such a condition of the system as renders it all but imperious to the exterior causes of disease, such as damp fog, sudden alternations of temperature, &c. Strength, and the perfect regularity of all the functions of the body, are the best safe-guards against atmospheric poison and the effects of unwholesome water, and HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are the best strengthening and regulating medicine at present known. For dyspepsia and biliousness they are a SPECIFIC ABSOLUTE.

LET ANY ONE TRY A FEW BOTTLES OF DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE AND IT WILL ESTABLISH ITS MERITS BEYOND CONTROVERSY.

We feel, in whatever we say in its behalf, that we are conferring a benefit upon thousands of people who would be benefitted by its use. Take any large audience or gathering of people, pay attention for a moment, and see if one out of every ten is not afflicted with a cough. There is no cough without some difficulty of the throat or lungs—trifling it may be at the outset, but gradually growing more and more fearful, until the constitution, at last, is made to succumb to its ravages; and what would have yielded in the beginning to a few doses of medicine has become a fearful lesion, involving life itself. No one can be too careful at this season of the year, to the first premonitors of pulmonary disease, and when a remedy like the one we have named, is within the means of all, the salutary advice which we have given should not be disregarded. Sold at the great Medicine Depot, 140 Wood street,

Arrested on Suspicion.

Officers McCoy, McGarr, White and Wilson, this morning about one o'clock, arrested Henry Nash, Thomas Wilson, John Leakin and Henry Jones in a "crib" on Webster street, on suspicion of being professional thieves. A dark lantern, revolver, knife, files and other appliances used by "professionals," were found in their possession, and one of the party had a large roll of the "Pendleton notes" in his pocket. Two of the parties were identified by a policeman as the men he saw at Moffat's store, at corner Grant street and Third avenue, on the evening before that establishment was robbed. They were locked up and will have a hearing this morning.

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of the Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.

The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy-Holders.

Several new and attractive tables are now presented which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former, the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal in ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. The latter the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.

The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

Circulars, Pamphlets and full particulars given on application to the Branch Office of the Company in Philadelphia, or its General Agents.

☞ LOCAL AGENTS ARE WANTED in every City and Town; and applications from competent parties for such agencies with suitable endorsement, should be addressed To THE COMPANY'S GENERAL AGENTS ONLY, in their respective districts.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, November 12, 1868.

Gold, bonds and stocks opened very bouyant, and an advance on last night's quotations. Gold, particular was strong at the opening, but gradually yielded to 133⅜, at which it closed firm. Purchases at present are entirely speculative, and to cover former contracts; the disposition, however, is to keep covered as much as possible at present quotations, and some of the importers would gladly buy if they had the money to pay for.

Government bonds opened very strong at an advance, but declined at the noon board, and closed heavy, despite the large demand for investment from the interior. The chief demand is for the old issues being lower than the January or new bonds, but dearer in proportion to the accrued interest.

Stocks are unsettled, opening with an advance of one to two per cent. declining to the average of yesterday's quotation, and closing rather better with a general improvement of the entire list. Some of the Western Railroads have large cash balances on hand to declare dividends in January next, other companies are held on the merits of the stocks as to location for through routes and promising a large increase in business.

Express shares have improved, and are held firm. The entire share market is in a condition which will enable a few bold operators to advance the whole list, whilst the bears claim that they are able to break the market with all their boasted assistance of the Treasury movements; they have so far only succeeded to depress prices temporarily.

Money is easier, but all that is offered is readily taken.

Business is improving.

In local stocks little is doing; some Connellsville stock is changing hands in small lots at $13, and some Allegheny Valley bonds are demanded between 78 and 80. In Oil stocks, the Triumph Company, it is rumored, will make a dividend, some believe 10 per cent. Bank stocks are quiet, and any lots offered at full value is taken up by parties who have some of the stocks near par and wish to make round lots, Money for small mortgages is much in demand at 10 to 12 per cent.

CENTRAL LIVE-STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, November 11, 1868.

CATTLE.

The market continues dull and somewhat depressed, and, if anything, prices, compared with last week, are a shade lower. There were but compaaratively few buyers in attendance, and the few that were here were timid, and, as a general thing, were asking for concessions. The principal portion of the receipts during the past week were directly transferred on shippers' account to the eastern markets. The receipts of Cattle have been fair, and the sales since Friday last foot up 457 head, at an average of from $4 to $6,50 per cwt. Sales reported on Friday last of 550 head at from $2,75 to $7,35 Total sales for the week were 1,007 head, against 1,348 head last week.

We quote the best Cattle at $7; medium, $6 to $6,50; stockers, $5 to $5,25, and mixed lots at $4 to $4,50 per cwt. We are reported sales as follows:

HOGS.

The supply of Hogs has been light, and prices are higher in consequence, but drovers, dealers and packers all concede that prices will at once drop. The receipts of Hogs in Chicago yesterday are reported at 161 car loads. The receipts in this market are of a good quality, and sales were readily effected. The demand was principally for Philadelphia and Baltimore, and with but two exceptions, buyers for other points were holding off, owing to the high prices prevailing. Sales since Friday last foot up 6,457 head at a range of from $7,25 to $9,10. Sales reported on Friday last 4,516 head. Total sales for the week 9,974, against 9,266 head the previous week. We quote the best Hogs at $9; porkers at $7,50 to $8, and medium at $7. At the close the yards were entirely cleaned out.

SHEEP.

There was a moderate supply of sheep on hand, generally of a medium and inferior quality. No choice offering. Notwithstanding the quality on sale, the pens were cleared of stock. The sales reported to-day foot up 6,167 head, at from $2,70 to $4,25 per hundred. Sales reported on Friday last 3,240 head. Total sales for the week 9,307 head, against 6,084 head the previous week. PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, November 12, 1868.

CRUDE.

There was a stronger feeling in the market to-day, particularly for early deliveries next year, and while November and December deliveries are unchanged; January and February deliveries are a shade better. We can report 200 bbls, bbls returned, at 10c; 1,000 each from January to February at 10c; 1,000 each from December to February at 10c; 1000, buyer's option, all 1869, at 15c, and, 5,000 same delivery and figure. Spot or November oil (40 to 45 gravity) may be quoted at 10c, while we are cognizant of 46 to 47 gravity having been offered at 9½ to 9¾c, without finding buyers.

REFINED

Was also considerable stronger this afternoon, and prices were a shade higher. It was reported that 2,000 bbls had been sold, on spot, at 24c, but we were unable to find either buyer or seller. There was a line of 500 each January to June at 27¾c; also, another for same months, at an average of 27⅝c; two others for same months at 28c, and 1,000 bbls for November, last half, at 26c. Yesterday November sold at 25½ to 25⅝c, while to-day, as will be seen, the same delivery sold at 26c.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

THE LIFE OF GEORGE STEPHENSON AND OF HIS SON ROBERT STEPHENSON; comprising also a history of the Invention and Introduction of the Railway Locomotive. By Samuel Smiles, author of "Self Help," "The Hugenots," etc. Published by Harper & Brothers. For sale by Henry Miner, Pittsburgh.

Few will imagine that so much information of intrinsic merit is to be found in this volume. The patient efforts to introduce the wonderful system of railways by the older Stephenson, and the steam locomotive, are here delineated by the hand of a "ready writer." Information is embodied, too, that is not only instructive to those more immediately engaged in such duties, but the unprofessional reader will find the book a store house of valuable information. Lessons are also taught, illustrative of the reward sure to follow the persevering, industrious student. Young men may find an example worthy, in father and son, to imitate. The difficulties overcome by these eminent engineers, sufficient to appal and dishearten men generally, entitle them to be enrolled among the heroic men of the world. The happy vein of incident running through the book makes it highly entertaining.

THE TROTTING HORSE OF AMERICA. How to train and drive him. With reminiscences of the Trotting Turf. By Hiram Woodruff. Edited by Charles J. Foster, of "Wilkes' Spirit of the Times." Including an introductory notice by George Wilkes, and a biographical sketch by the editor. Published by J. B. Ford and Co., New York. For sale by Henry Miner, Fifth avenue, Pittsburgh.

This is a remarkable book in many respects. It contains lessons of instruction in regard to the training of this noble animal—the horse—which thousands will appreciate. Ordinarily, unprofessional persons look with little favor upon such information. While the commendable features of horse training are worthy of attention, it by no means follows that we should prostitute this animal to baser purposes, and make him a vehicle for gambling and other evils. The Introductory Letter by George Wilkes, Biographical Sketch by the editor, and Appendix, giving an account of Bonner's great horse Dexter, are quite readable. The book is dedicated to Mr. Robert Bonner, the live publisher of the N. Y. Ledger, the popular weekly.

THEATRICAL MANAGEMENT IN THE WEST AND SOUTH FOR THIRTY YEARS. Interspersed with Anecdotical sketches; Autobiographically given by Sol. Smith, retired actor. With fifteen illustrations, and a portrait of the author. Published by Harper and Brothers, New York. For sale by Henry Miner, and W. A. Gildenfenny, Fifth avenue, Pittsburgh.

Doubtless very many persons will enjoy this autobiography of Sol. Smith, who was widely known and popular among theatre-goers. The life-like portrait of this genial old actor, vividly recalls by-gone years, when we used to meet him in the Sunny South. We never saw him on the stage, but think that one gifted with so much of the social element, could hardly fail to make a very readable book. The defence of theatre-going, is what might be expected. The illustration are of the comic cast.

GOLD ELSIE. From the German of E. Marlett, author of "The Old Mam'selle's Secret." By Mrs. A. L. Wister. Published by J. B Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia. For sale by R. S. Davis, Wood street, Pittsburgh.

This interesting story is unlike most of the novels of the day from the fact that the personages, like the German characteristics, are more of a matter of fact, more natural, than the majority of novels. Of course the central character, and the one which gives piquancy to the story is, Gold Elsie. The, book will likely have a wide circulation, and be popular like, "The Old Mam'selle's Secret."

MABEL'S MISTAKE.—By Ann S. Stephens Author of "Fashion and Famine," "Doubly False," "The Wife's Secret," Published by T. B. Peterson & Brothers. For sale by W. A. Gildenfeny, Fifth Avenue, Pittsburgh.

The novels of Mrs. Stephens have had quite an extensive sale, and the simple announcement of a work by her is sufficient. Popular as "Doubly False" was on its first appearance, it is thought that "Mabel's Mistake" is superior, both in its range of characters and power of portrayal. Mrs. Stephens wields a graceful pen, and her powers of delineation are very fine. A new work by Mrs. Southworth "Fair Play" is announced by this firm.

THE NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW.—October, 1868. Published by Ticknor & Fields, Boston.

This sturdy Quarterly contains a fine list of articles, among which are "Philosophical Biology," "The New York Convention," "The Principles of Geology," "Epic Philosophy," "The Political Situation of England," "The Siege of Delhi," "The Spanish Gipsy," &c. Every number of this excellent publication contains articles of superior merit. It is printed in fine style.

FRIENDLY COUNSEL FOR GIRLS; or, Words in Season. By Sidney Cox. Published by G. W. Carleton, New York. For sale by Henry Miner, Fifth Avenue, Pittsburgh.

This pleasant volume comprises many admirable suggestions for the guidance of girls, with here and there, scattered through the volume, pretty episodes of the bright side of life. The suggestions in regard to the common place virtues and vices of daily life in girlhood, are generally in good taste.

THE ACTS OF KINGS. Published by G. W. Carleton, New York. For sale by Henry Miner, Pittsburgh.

The chapters of this little pamphlet were printed, originally, in the columns of the "Southern Opinion." It is an amusing affair and full of happy hits.

WHAT ANSWER. By Anna E. Dickinson. Published by Ticknor & Fields, Boston. For sale by R. S. Davis, 93 Wood street, Pittsburgh.

We were favored with advance sheets of this live book, and took occasion to speak of it in terms of commendation. It is full of dash, and is in keeping with the fair author's style of lecturing. This being her first venture in the field of authorship, she is entitled to credit for the ability shown in its preparation. It is more than a mere story for entertainment, as it contains an outline of principles in regard to caste, which is now agitating society. Her idea seems to be that the end of the conflict will not be accomplished until equal rights in every respect are enjoyed by black and white. The hero, a white man, marries a quadroon, rich and accomplished, and in fighting to make men free, he becomes a martyr to the cause of right and truth.

THE HALF-DOLLAR EDITION OF TENNYSON' POEMS. Complete. Published by Ticknor & Fields, Boston. For sale by R. S. Davis, Pittsburgh.

This beautiful edition, paper covers, is marvellously cheap. It is well printed and portable. Just the thing to carry on a trip.

THE AMAZON. By Franz Dingelstedt. Translated from the German By J. M. Hart. Published by G. P. Putnam & Son, New York. For sale by R. S. Davis, Pittsburgh.

These enterprising publishers have just commenced the publication of a series of popular works by the best authors of France and Germany, translated expressly for their "Popular Library of European Literature." "The Amazon" is a German novel by Dingelstedt, a writer of decided merit, who has attained the happy art of giving a picture of society that shall be at once truthful and humorous. The scene is laid in the cultivated circles of German society, and is full of bon mots.

WHAT MAKES ME GROW? Or, Walks and Talks with Amy Dudley. By the author of "Harry Lawton's Adventures." Published by G. P. Putnam & Son, New York. For sale by R. S. Davis, Pittsburgh.

Among the charming story books for the little folks issuing from the press for the holiday season, this one deserves a high place. Lessons of incalculable benefit to the young are taught in the narrative. Children learn by the method employed by the author, the duties and affairs of life more quickly than by the old process. It is prettily bound and illustrated.

CAST AWAY IN THE COLD; An old man's story of a young man's adventure, as related by Captain John Hardy Mariner By Dr. Isaac I. Hayes, author of "An Artic Boat Journey," etc. Published by Ticknor & Fields, Boston. For sale by R. S. Davis, Pittsburgh.

Dr. Hayes was a favorite lecturer here in by-gone years, and it is not surprising that he has prepared such a charming book for the young people. He has the happy knack of knowing how to tell a story well. When this story was appearing in chapters in the Young Folks' Magazine, it was much sought after, and read with intense interest by old and young. It is beautifully gotten up, and superbly illustrated. It will be a favorite among the young people, and it is a capital gift book.

THE LITTLE SPANIARD; or Old Jose's Grandson. By May Mannering. Published by Lee & Shephard. For sale by R. S. Davis, Pittsburgh.

This is one of the "Helping-Hand Series," and like all the charming stories of May Mannering, it is brimful of interest. Just now anything relating to Spain ought to be popular. Young people will learn much of this interesting people, as well as useful lessons to guide them in life.

DOTTY DIMPLE OUT WEST. By Sophia May. Published by Lee & Shephard, Boston. For sale by R. S. Davis, Pittsburgh.

This series of "Dotty Dimple Stories are exceedingly popular with the "wee folks." This little volume maintains the interest that has characterized other works of the series.

MISCHIEVOUS JOHN,
FOOLISE ZOE,
BOASTING HECTOR. Text by their Mamma. The designs by L. Frolich. Published by Roberts Brothers. For sale by R. S. Davis, Pittsburgh.

These charming little books belong to the "Illustrated Humorous Series," of this firm. They are bound in cloth flexible covers, quarto form, and illustrated in a superior style. The taste displayed by the artist is in admirable keeping with the text. They will have a wide sale.

PAMPHLETS, ETC.

Loring, of Boston, sends us "How to Furnish and Adorn a House with Small Means," by Mrs. Warren, and "Baron Leo Von Oberg, M. D." A Story of Love Unspoken. From the German. By Jos. A. Sigismund. The former is one of the series of Mrs. Warren's Home Annuals. It is a capital thing. The latter is a love story and ought to be popular.

We have received "Jacob Faithful," of the People's Edition of Maryatt's Popular Sea Novels. It is very cheap, only fifty cents. This work and Loring's are for sale by Henry Miner.

Miner's Pittsburgh Almanac for 1869 is out. It is one of the best almonacs published, and was calculated and edited by Sanford C. Hill. Besides the usual information, it contains a vast amount of instructive and entertaining reading matter. It is sold cheap.

Two large orchards, containing from six to seven hundred fruit trees, nearly all in good bearing condition. This farm abounds in small fruits, viz: Currants, raspberries, gooseberries, and a fine large strawberry patch, which, in connexion with the richness of the soil and nearness to the city, makes it very desirable for gardening purposes. THE COUNTY CHRISTIAN CONVENTION.

immediately, such measures as may seem best adapted to invite and assure a hearty welcome, the multitudes that now enter no house of worship.

The discussion was resumed, and brief remarks made by Rev. Mr. McMillan, Mr. Reynolds, and others, after which

Dr. Howard read the programme of exercises for the Women's Christian Association, which we publish elsewhere in full.

The Question Box was then opened, and the questions answered by D. L. Moody, of Chicago.

Mr. Oliver McClintock read a circular and call for a National Christian Convention to be held in New York on the 17th of the present month, at which addresses on selected topics will be made by Revs. Henry Ward Beecher, Howard Crosby, Stephen H. Tyng, Jr., Horace Durant, Esq., D. L. Moody, Esq., and a number of other distinguished clergymen and lay workers.

The usual vote of thanks was passed, after which the audience joined in singing the thirty-fourth selection:

"Come, Christian Brethren, ere we part,
Join every voice and every heart:
One solemn hymn to God we raise,
One final song of grateful praise."

The closing prayer was then made by D. L. Moody, and the Convention adjourned sine die.

AN ANNIVERSARY MEETING.

A few hours after the adjournment of the Convention the members and friends of the Yonng Men's Christian Association assembled in the church to participate in the Second Anniversary meeting of that organization. The attendance was remarkably large, every available part of the house being occupied by persons sitting and standing and numbers were unable to gain admittance.

Mr. H.K. Porter, President of the Association, occupied the chair, and called the meeting to order at half-past seven o'clock.

The exercises commenced by the audience rising, and joining with the choir in the following anthem:

LIVE.

BY HORATIUS BONAR, D. D.

Make haste, O man, to live,
For thou so soon must die;
Time hurries past thee like the breeze;
How swift its moments fly!
Make haste, O man, to live!

To breathe, and wake, and sleep,
To smile, to sigh, to grieve,
To move in idleness through earth,—
This, this is not to live!
Make haste, O man, to live!

Make haste, O man, to do
Whatever must be done;
Thou hast no time to lose in sloth!
Thy day will soon be gone,
Make haste, O man, to live!

Up, then, with speed, and work:
Fling ease and self away;
This is no time for thee to sleep;
Up! watch, and work, and pray!
Make haste, O man, to live!

The useful,—not the great,—
The thing that never dies,
The silent toil that is not lost,
Set these before thine eyes,
Make haste, O man, to live!

Rev. E. Q. Squier offered the opening prayer.

Rev. W. C. Preston read the first chapter of the Second Epistle of John as a scripture lesson.

The audience then united in singing the selection commencing

"Oh my soul, bless thou Jehovah,
All within me bless his name."

Mr. Oliver M'Clintock stated that the Young Men's Christian Association of Cincinnati was celebrating its anniversary in Pike's Opera House and moved the transmission of the following message:

"The anniversary meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association of Pittsburgh greets the anniversary meeting of the Young Men's Christian Asssciation of Cincinnati with 2nd chapter, 2nd Thessalonias, 16 and 17th verse."

16th. "Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God, even our Father, which hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation and good hope through grace,

17th. Comfort your hearts, and stablish you in every good word and work."

The motion was carried and the message immediately transmitted.

The next exercise was the reading of the report of the President of the Association, as follows:

PRESIDENT PORTER'S REPORT.

Brethren of the Young Men's Christian Association:

Standing at the close of another year, it is fitting, as well as customary, that we examine its record and review its lessons.

The memory of the gathering of Christ's people in our city, one year ago, is very fresh, and the impulse given by that gathering to our Association has been a subject of daily remark, and a cause for devout thanksgiving. The cordial sympathy of this whole community and the deep interest manifested in our work by those who gathered from other homes at our invitation, pointed out a large work to be performed during the year now closed. While we trembled at its magnitude, understanding perfectly from our past experience that it was destined daily to increase, yet we had the strengthening assurance that as our day was so should our strength be, and the Master was manifestly present in our midst.

The various meetings under our charge were infused with the spirit caught on that occasion, and many plans were laid that our members might more generally be engaged in the blessed work.

THE NOONDAY PRAYER MEETING

which was one of the most marked features of our first year has been regularly maintained. The advisability of continuing its sessions during the hot summer was questioned, but an urgent request from four young men, who pledged themselves one to the other to be always present unless providentially detained, speedily settled that question, and not a single business day of the whole year has passed that the noonday sacrifice of prayer has not been offered at this altar. Regularly as the muezzin's cry of the matin chat and vesper bell call Musselmen and Catholic to prayer has this unpretentious service pointed out day after day the significance of all this worldly show, and of all its actors in comparison with Him, who is greater than Allah, greater than the virgin mother, with Him who alone is great and greatly to be feared and to be had in reverence of men. The din and turmoil of the busy street have been but partially shut out from where earnest cries were ascending for less intense devotion to the world and a complete consecration unto God; and the sound of singing has floated out to blend in strangely with the jargon of this world's Babel worship.

Some of the outward features of the meeting call for special mention. Its numbers are not large and yet the attendance throughout the year has been very encouraging. No special season stands out with the prominence of that of the first year, but the spirit of the meeting has been uniformly excellent. Its location has recently been changed. Till the 3d of August, it was daily held as before at the First Methodist Church, and we can never express too fully our thanks to that kind pastor and people for the generosity with which their house was opened to us. But latterly we felt that without remuneration we could not remain there longer, and having an empty exchequer, we removed the meeting to the rooms of the Association. The has maintained the distinctive characteristics that have marked it from its inception. It is the meeting where the work of the Association as such is specially brought to Him for whom it is performed, and without whose blessing it is undertaken utterly in vain.

Its devout spirit and its fervor are the best of preperation for the Sabbath work. Its earnestness kindles all hearts; formality and stiffness seem to be unknown, and rarely does a week pass that new voices are not heard giving an outspoken testimony to the love of Jesus.

FIRE ENGINE MEETING.

The meetings held in the halls of four of our fire engine companies on Sabbath afternoon will ever be remembered by those who participated in them. The attendance on the part of the firemen was rarely as general as it had been hoped might be secured, but it was often gratifying. The reception extended was always kind and frequently cordial, and many times those who attended the meetings were impressed with the belief that we were regarded as coming, actuated only by a sincere desire to meet our fellows and affectionately to commend to the religion of Jesus, and not prompted by a pretended philanthropy. Many a man who had been leading a wild life had early serious impressions re-awakended, in several instances reformation followed, and in some, as we trust, serious impressions deepened into true repentance and contrition for sin.

In response to a request from Post No. — of the Army of the Republic, a meeting was sustained in their hall in Allegheny for several months.

Both these meetings were finally given up on account of the beginning of the open air meetings, held at the same hour. These services were inaugurated on the last Sabbath in May, when our tent was pitched in the metal yard of the P. C. R. R,, on Seventh avenue. Since that time the meetings have been regularly held, and during the last two months two services, and most of the time three have been held at the same hour. Our members have thus gone, from five to twenty in each band, sometimes accompanied by ordained ministers, but often alone, to vacant lots or public squares, in many different localities. Hundreds have gathered at the voice of singing, and multitudes have thus heard of Jesus, often heard of him gladly, who otherwise would have heard that name only in blasphemy. The truth has been presented feebly, our lips have spoken falteringly of the glorious excellence and beauty of our King, but that beauty has been presented, that truth has been made known, and we remember that God can make the weak things of the world to confound the mighty and base things of the world, yea, and things which are not to bring to naught things that are.

These services have not been confined to the Sabbath. Several weeks, just at evening twilight, singing in the market place or on the wharf has attracted crowds, tired by their day's work, and yet ready to be allured. What multitudes of such there are in our midst, ready to be influenced, to be met with at every corner, jostled by us on the street and in the cars. Would that those who have met these men and taken some of them by the hand at such gatherings, who have witnessed their agitation and deep interest, while affectionate personal appeals have been made to them, would that they might plead with every Christian in this assembly so effectually, that every one should near the voice from Heaven, demanding, "Where is thy brother?"

With the same desire to reach the neglected that prompted us in the summer, to call them together in the open air, we last November invited Harry Moorhouse, for this familiar name is the one by which he is widely known, to spend a few weeks in our city. His time was occupied in visiting during the morning, in preparation for the evening service during the afternoon, and nearly every evening, with rare simplicity, and often with peculiar pathos and power, he preached.

Sabbath evenings we secured the old Theatre, and from the latter part of November till late in March the people were invited and multitudes came, not to have their imaginations depraved or their passions aroused, but to listen to the preaching of the Cross. These unusual services, thus began by one who had become familiar with them in London and in Dublin, were taken up with alacrity and zeal, and carried on through the winter by ministers representing nearly every denomination in our city.

Men and women were reached there whose faces are never seen in a church. Those who had abandoned hope; those whose lives had been seared with wild excess and hardened by crime, with large numbers of careless loungers on the streets, sat there at home and listened attentively to plain truth as to their condition and their future, and to tender and affectionate entreaties to rise to a worthy and true joy through the power of a forgiving and a loving Saviour.

At the close of the service at the theatre, the audience was always invited to meet immediately at the rooms of the Association for prayer. These meetings were very affecting. They afforded Christians an opportunity to appear personally to those who had been impressed by any word of the preacher, and thus serious impressions were often deepened. Confirmed drunkards have asked at such times, with tears streaming down their faces, for help in turning to a new life, and wives have come from sad and desolate homes to plead the prayers of Christians, if there might yet be hope for their husbands. "What must I do to be saved," was often asked, and some, we trust, learned the way of salvation.

At the earnest solicitation of the resident physician and superintendent, who has not been content merely with thoughts for the physical welfare of the men under his charge, a meeting has been held nearly every Thursday evening during the year at the Soldiers' Home. It has been found impossible to sustain these without break on account of the distance of the Home from our headquarters, even though an ambalance has always been in waiting, but those who have gone have ever been repaid by the deep interest of those whom they went to encourage, and an active part in the meetings has sometimes been taken by them.

Another meeting of peculiar interest has been held since early in July, at the rooms of the Association, every Sabbath morning. Quite a number of our members had no evening service at their respective churches during the latter part of the summer, and they resolved to meet and to gather others, if possible, for prayer. In the evenings, therefore they met in front of their rooms, on the side-walk of the great thoroughfare, and sang familiar hymns. Crowds would gather, curious to know what this strange proceedings meant, and many would accept the invitation to meet to think of Jesus. The last meeting of this serious was held late in October, and was conducted by a young man, and taken part in by two others, who three weeks before had come to join in singing, but perfectly indifferent to Him whose name they sang. Jesus followed them to their homes, sent his message to be urged by a respected comrade, and from that hour those young men, hitherto careless and neglient of prayer, had no rest till they found rest in Jesus. The two

CITY MISSIONARIES

Who have labored in connection with us during the year made their report this morning, and these, together with the report of the Committee on City Evangelization, through its Secretary, Rev. William H. Locke, show a large number of visits made, numerous cottage prayer meetings sustained, and an influence exerted that cannot fail to prove beneficial.

While the Association feels that it will be impossible for us to have the same charge of this work that a confiding Christian public rolled upon us the last year, yet it will ever be esteemed a privilege to labor with the self-sacrificing men who may hereafter be employed in this noble, Christ-like work.

While we have thus glanced at some of the work in which we have been engaged we can only look forward for its complete results. None but He who seeth the end from the beginning, knows of these. Our own hearts have been knit more closely to each other, have been warmed by mutual contact, and by the effort to do the will of our Father. Three of our number have gone from active business to prepare themselves for the Gospel ministry. We have all learned more fully the beauty and the power wrapped up in the motto of the catholic-minded theologian, "In essentials, unity; in non-essentials, liberty; in all things, charity," our various churches in some measure, at least, have been brought into closer fellowship, and thus are bringing into distinct view the great and blessed fact of Christian united, which has been so stoutly denied at Rome; but of the effect on the world, on those with whom we have labored and for whom we have prayed, we may not speak. All imperfect as the work has been, we lay it on the altar, asking that he who will not allow His word to return into Him void, but will accomplish by it that whereto it was sent, will use it to His own eternal glory.

It remains to speak of other matters pertaining to our associational interests. Our has been open every week day through the year; its tables supplied with a goodly number and excellent variety of religious and seculiar papers and periodicals, and its homelike comfort have attracted a large number of readers to avail themselves of its privileges.

BOILER EXPLOSION FUND.

An unusual appeal was made to our sympathies, and a demand for arduous and prolonged service by the terrible boiler explosion of November 8th, 1867. Bands to render temporary aid were immediately formed, and when, at a public meeting of the citizens, the whole trust of collecting and distributing the funds to alleviate the suffering was confided to us, a Permanent Committee was appointed. Not only our Association, but also the Young Men's Episcopal Guild, the Aquila and Priscilla Societies, and the citizens at large were represented. The Committee met regularly till its system of relief was fully arranged, since which time the disbursements have been made through the Chairman, and the fund has been under the direct charge of the Board. Twice the accounts have been audited by committees appointed by His Honor the Mayor. Messrs. W. R. Brown, J. P. Pears and Samuel Rea, the last committee thus appointed, after stating that the account was "found correct in every particular," remarked, "the disbursements have been regularly and judiciously made, and the committee, it seems to us, have been governed by a spirit of liberality toward all the sufferers, while they displayed entire fidelity to the trust imposed to them by a generous public."

The sum raised was $16,016.82, which is increased by interest on part of this amount computed to last July to $16,149.45. The amount expended to December 1st, 1868, (the disbursement of this month having been already made,) is $13,607.82, leaving a balance of $2,541.00, which by special arrangement and favor of the banks holding the deposits is drawing interest as a running account. The monthly disbursements are about 500. Subscribers to this fund whose aggregate subscriptions reached the sum of $4,800, authorized the Board in writing to use some part of their subscriptions for other cases of distress occasioned by like accident, if they should deem it proper. Three hundred and twenty dollars have been thus used—used strictly we believe in accordauce with the spirit in which the subscriptions were given.

The report concluded with an elaborate account of the workings of the Association in Manchester and other places, and an eloquent appeal to all to do their full duty under the banner of the Lord.

At the conclusion of the reading of the report, the audience joined in singing the hymn commencing

"My faith looks up to Thee,
Thou Lamb of Calvary."

The annual report of the Treasurer, Mr. Walter L. McClintock, was presented:

W. L. McCLINTOCK,
Treasurer Y. M. C. A.

Mr. D. L. Moody, of Chicago, was now introduced and made a forcible and pertinent address, reviewing the work of the Association and other kindred associations in the land, maintaining that, when properly managed, they ranked second to no other agency in the evangelization of the community. He continued his remarks at some length, and closed with an urgent appeal to the young and all Christians to put forth more earnest efforts in pushing forward the work.

At the conclusion of Mr. Moody's address, the chairman stated that the Association was in need of funds to carry on the enterprise for another year, and they called upon all friends of the cause in the audience to contribute of their means to that end, according to their ability. About fifteen minutes was occupied in collecting the subscriptions, which rooted up the handsome figure of $4,355.80.

President Porter read the following message which had just been received from the Young Men's Christian Association of Cincinnati, as follows:

"The Young Men's Christian Association of Cincinnati, in anniversary meeting, send greeting to the anniversary meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association of Pittsburgh, and refer them to 2d Thessalonians, 2d chapter, 2d and 3d verses."

"1st—Grace unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

"2d—We are bound to thank God always for you brethren, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the charity of every one of you all toward each other aboundeth."

Rev. Jonathan Edwards, President of Washington and Jefferson College, was next introduced and made a brief address on the work of the Association as exhibited in the annual report of the President. He also dwelt briefly on the power and simplicity of prayer, and the pleasure to be derived from its exercise, and urged all christian workers to cultivate it, and depend upon it for success in all their labors.

The President stated that owing to the lateness of the hour, Mr. Henry Vincent, who had been expected to make an address, wished to be excused, a request which, under the circumstances, could not but be granted. The audience then rose and joined in singing the long metre Doxology, after which Rev. Dr. Jacobus made the closing prayer and the meeting adjourned.

General Council of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America.

The Second Convention of this body was began on Thursday, 12th day of October, at ten o'clock A. M., in the First English Evangelical Lutheran Church of this city, Rev. S. Laird, Pastor.

The Convention engaged in appropaiate religious exercises.

Rev. C. W. Shaeffer, D. D., presented a short report.

Rev. G. Bassler, Director of the Farm School, of Elienaple, Pennsylvania, and the first President of the General Council, having been called to the Assembly of the blessed during the past year, we make the following extract from Dr. Shaeffer's report, embracing a tender allusion to the departed President:

Had it pleased the Head of the Church, whose we are and whom we serve, to prolong the life, and maintain the health of our late President until this day, how gladly would we have greeted his familiar presence here, how cheerfully should we have regarded the tones of his gentle voice, as in this hour he would have the assembly to order. But God has directed otherwise, the eminent medical skill, the affectionate kindness that had been so diligently employed on his behalf, proved to be unavailing; but not so the prayers of the brethren in which he was remembered. The spirit of those prayers was regarded and answered. His own ones were heard and accepted, and so the will of the Lord has been concerning him, for by the will of the Lord he rests from his labors, and enjoys the blesssings provided for those who die in the Lord.

For us, however, the cheerfulness of this hour, in which we meet as old familiar friends and exchange our fraternal salutations, is not without a shade of regret as we think of our loss in the character and useful labors of him whom we knew as a brother beloved, and whose face we shall see in the flesh no more.

But the General Council itself does not die. It lives, though it may have its trials. It lives as long as there is work to be done for the Lord and His Church, as long as a noble and hearty testimony has to be borne for the pure doctrine of the Word.

Such blessing has rested upon the Church and its labors during the past year that we may well surrender it as the year of the right hand of the Most High.

We have come together in the name of the Lord and for the sake of His word, which liveth and abideth forever. We have one Lord, one faith, one baptism.

We have, therefore, ground to hope that we shall be able to live and work together as brethren.

Mighty and exciting as may be the subjects that shall claim our attention, may we not confidently assure ourselves at the outset that we shall be able, without making any compromise with error, without countenancing or winking at anything that is wrong, without favoring anything that is extravagant, to agree on such measures as shall show that the Lord is with us, and that through the grace of God, we have the wisdom of the serpent and the harmlessness of the dove?

Delegates reported from the ministeriums of Pennsylvania and New York the English and English District Synods of Ohio, the Pittsburgh, Wisconsin, Michigan, Augustana, Minnesota, Canada, Illinois, Iowa and Concordia Synods.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected.

President, Rev. C. W. Schaeffer; English Secretary, Rev. H. W. Roth; German Secretary, Rev. A. Spaeth; English Corresponding Secretary, Rev. B. M. Schomucker; German Corresponding Secretary, Rev. R. Adelberg; Treasurer, H. H. Muhlenberg, M.D.

President Shaeffer expressed his thanks for the honor that the General Council conferred in his election, so unexpected to himself. In the heavy responsibilities of his position he needed and desired the sympathy of the Council. Much could be said, he would say but little. Mighty and interesting points will claim our attention if we enter upon our discussions in the spirit of Him whose we are and whom we serve; such results will be reached as will call for thanks, and our hearts filled with gratitude to God, we can return to our homes, take courage and gird ourselves anew in the conflict for the truth.

The hours for the openings and adjournments of the Council were fixed at nine and twelve o'clock A. M., and half-past two and fine o'clock P. M.

The principal portion of the afternoon session was taken up in considering and fixing rules of order by which its future sessions and business proceedings are to be governed.

Dr. Seif preached the opening sermon before the Council last evening to a large audience.

The Allegheny Riot Case.—James Sullivan, one of the parties charged with riot, by Mr. Geo. Bothwell, of Allegheny, an occount of which we published some days since, yesterday appeared before Alderman McMasters and made information charging John McDonald, John Ganley, James Jones, George Bothwell and Alexander Haves with aggravated and felonious assault and battery.

This is doubtless a cross suit, instituted for the want of a better defence, as by this means both sides are permitted to testify. Warrants were issued for the arrest of the accused.

Women's Christian Association.—The first anniversary meeting of this association will be held this evening in the Second Presbyterian Church, (Dr. Howard's,) corner of Penn and Irwin streets. By request of the ladies Rev. W. D. Howard will preside. Mr. D. L. Moody, of Chicago, will deliver an address, and the annual reports will be read by Felix R. Brunot, Esq. Singing and devotional exercises will intersperse the proceedings throughout. The affair will doubtless be one of great interest to all who attend.

Nearly all of the Legislators who have been sojourning for a few days past at the Monongahela House have taken their departure. We believe the several caucuses held by them resulted in the accomplishment of no object.

Lost.—Yesterday on one of the Ohio and Western avenue street cars, a pocketbook, by a lady, containing all the money she had. The finder will be reasonably rewarded by leaving it at this Office.

Important Decisions.

The following important opinions delivered by John N. Purviance Register in Bankruptcy for the Twenty-third Congressional District, in the case of Joseph Barnett, who filed a petition in Bankruptcy on the 3rd day of March, 1868, was confirmed in the U. S. Court yesterday:

OPINION.

The question upon which the opinion of the Register is desired, is whether the crop raised by the Bankrupt in the year 1868, after the filing of his petition in Bankruptcy passes as assets to the assignee for the use of the creditors of said Bankrupt.

The petition in Bankruptcy in this case, was filed on the 3rd day of March 1868, by the petitioner The said Barnett, was adjudged a Bankrupt on the 8th day of April following. Assignment of his assets, was duly made on the 15th day of May, 1868, to the assignee chosen by the greater part in number and value of the creditors who have proved their debts, said Bankrupt has not been discharged. The Fourteenth Section of the Bankrupt Act, providing inter alia for the assignment of Bankrupt's effects and estate, is specific in its terms, in this, that it provides for the assignment and conveyance to the assignee of all the estate, real and personal, of the bankrupt, of which he was possessed, or in which he was interested, or entitled to have on the day of the date of filing his petition in bankruptcy, and declares that "such assignment shall relate back to the commencement of said proceedings in bankruptcy." The assignment therefore does not relate to or take effect upon after acquired property, earned by labor as in this case. The whole proceedings as provided for by the law and as indicated in the forms prescribed, seem to contemplate the true condition of the bankrupt, as to his means and liabilities, at the time of the commencement of the proceedings in bankruptcy. Therefore, after acquired property, earned by labor or otherwise, pending proceedings in bankruptcy, and before final discharge, forms no part of the assets which under the bankrupt law passed by assignment to the assignee for the use of the creditor.

Taking the facts to be as stated in the paper hereto attached, "that after the petition in bankruptcy was filed that Joseph Burnett, the bankrupt, put in a spring crop, consisting of corn, oats, buckwheat and potatoes," the register is of opinion that the said grain raised by the bankrupt after the filing of his petition does not pass to the assignee as assetts for the use of the creditor.

The decision was submitted to the Court Tuesday and confirmed.

Meritorious.

The American Combination Button-hole and Sewing Machine stands first on the list of valuable Sewing Machines. It has been but recently introduced in this neighborhood. Yet, notwithstanding the short time it has been before this community, it is now extensively employed by merchant tailors, dress makers, shirt makers, and private families, who pronounce it perfection and really the only meritorious family machine now in use. The Philadelphia Press says:

Prior to the advent of that marvelous contrivance now so familiarly known as the American Combination Buttonhole and Sewing Machine, this species of Machinery was used chiefly in manufactures, and among the well-to-do, a class that could really best afford to do without them. Being adapted only to some especial class of work in each cass, it was necessarily debarred from entering the family circle, as a general thing (except among the wealthy,) on account of the to great cost for the limited range of work performed by any one machine. But comparatively few felt that they could afford to invest so much in an article that could satisfactorily only do a portion of the staple sewing of the family, and hence we were substantially without a machine among them all, of capacity to answer fully the requirements of the household. Fortunately for the community at large, this difficulty has been overcome; this important desideratum supplied, at last, by that remarkable machine, the "American Combination," which so suddenly and unexpectedly made its appearance among its older but less-favored associates and competitors for public favor, and it soon became evident that all the old-fashioned instruments must give place to later inventions of more perfect mechanism. Thus it is, everything has its day, and individual interests must inevitably suffer if they are allowed to lay behind in the great march of improvement. The people are for progress. "Excelsior" is the watch-word in every enlightened community, and thanks to the genius, skill and energy of our intelligent mechanics, Philadelphia stands first to-day in the excellence of her sewing machines. One word more in explanation of the word "combination" as used in this connection. It is meant to express the fact that this most ingenious machine combines, in its wonderful mechanism, the capacity to do all kinds of sewing, including button-hole work, overseaming and embroidering on the edge. For the benefit of those who may not yet have seen or carefully examined it, we will state, before concluding this hastily written notice, that it is on exhibition and for sale in all the principal cities of the country. We say to all, avail yourselves of the privileges to see and, if you need it, to purchase this most admirable, complete and reliable piece of labor saving machinery of the kind ever yet produced. As a fitting conclusion, we may add an extract from our recent foreign correspondence showing the estimation in which this favorite machine is held abroad, viz: I have great pleasure in stating that to the American Combination Button Hole and Sewing Machine was awarded the gold medal at the late Havre International Exposition over all competitors.

Charles C. Baisley is the agent for Western Pennsylvania. His salesroom is on the corner of Fifth avenue and Market streets, second floor, over H. Richardson's Jewelry Store. If you wish a family machine that will please you in every particular, go and purchase the American Combination.

Queensware.—The manufacture of Bristol ware and queensware in this city is by no means of minor importance in the commercial statistics. The popular and well managed pottery of S. M. Kier & Co., office and ware-rooms 303 Liberty street, has succeeded in building up an immense trade, nearly altogether supplying our home dealers and the western trade. The goods manufactured are of first quality and more than favorably compare with any that come from the East, and for which much heavier prices are charged.
